A great fire in New York, hemmed in 240 people and the number of dead is not ascertained.
Lowell, Mass., has been visited by a terrible conflagration. Loss a quarter of a million dollars.

Mrs. Sylvester Smith has been arrested for murder at Moosemin. This arrest is the outcome of the Thompson suicide case.

The report is confirmed that the Imperial government will join the Dominion in the establishment of a fast Atlantic service.

Master Workman Sovereign, speaking at Washington condemned the American courts for recent decisions on labor organizations.

At the annual meeting of the Manitoba branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club last night T. W. Peters was elected president. The next bonspiel will be held during the week beginning Feb. 10th. 1896.

The assizes for the eastern judicial district of Manitoba closed yesterday, when the chief justice pronounced sentence on prisoners who had been convicted. Farr, whose trial was the chief feature of the assizes, received a sentence of ten years.

LOCAL.

The fur buyers report no purchases this week.

RABBITS are still numerous in this vicinity.

POST OFFICE will be closed to-day until 5.30 p. m.

C. W. MATHERS has taken an extra fine view of the new hospital.

James Reilly, of Calgary, has gone on a trip to the coast and California.

The new All Saints church is almost completed and now awaits the arrival of the sects.

OTTEWELL's threshers have ceased operations for the season, having threshed 45,000 bushels of grain, chiefly in the Clover Bar settlement.

SAMUEL EAGLES, of Clearwater, Manitoba, arrived last week to look up a location in the Edmonton district. He went south on Friday's train to Olds.

STEPHEN HILL, of Stony Plain, brought in two white tailed deer that were shot on the Plain this week. One was purchased by W. R. Howey and the other by R. Vance.

A. H. MARTIN has added a fine blue falcon to his collection of birds. It was shot by Geo. W. Gairdner, of St. Albert. It is of the hawk species, but a much more handsome bird than an ordinary hawk.

P. L. McNAMARA has purchased the safe sold on Saturday last and is having it placed in the upper rooms of the Jacques Cartier bank building, to which he will shortly remove his offices. Jas. Dinner has the contract.

CAMILLE VERSTRAEE, of St. Albert, went south a couple of weeks ago to purchase horses on the southern ranches for the Belgian market. At last accounts he had purchased several car loads. He will start for Belgium in December.

A DOUBLE wedding took place in Holy Trinity church, South Edmonton, yesterday, being the marriage of Mr. F. S. Ellett to Miss E. A. Andrews, and of Mr. C. C. Ellett to Miss A. L. Andrews. The couples are brothers, well to do farmers of Sandy lake settlement, south side, and the brides sisters of F. H. Andrews, stationer, Edmonton, and daughters of J. C. Andrews, of Cooking lake.

FOUR Austrians arrived on Monday's train direct from Galicia, to look for farms in the Edmonton district. Three of them spoke only Russian or Polish and the fourth German and a little English. They were peculiarly clad. Each one had a linen shirt gathered at the neck, over which was a sheepskin coat finely tanned, with the wool turned inwards. On their legs were leather leggings. They are possessed of some means and will spend the winter at Limestone lake, east of Fort Saskatchewan, with a view of deciding for themselves and friends what the winter climate is like. They represent 150 families who are anxious to emigrate from Galicia.

THE weather, which was cold on Monday night, turned warm on Tuesday morning and some rain fell. The river again ran almost clear of ice on Tuesday and the upper ferry scow was running on Wednesday. Considerable rain fell on Tuesday and Wednesday making the roads muddy. The weather is more damp and mild now than was ever before known here at this season. It has been as mild, but never before as wet. Although unseasonable it is welcome, especially to people who lost their hay by fires, as by shortening the winter it will tend to keep down the price. Indeed for all we say about not feeling the cold here, the shortening of the winter is welcomed by almost everyone.

S. CUNNINGHAM, of lake St. Ann, was in town on Tuesday. He says that white fish are increasing in that lake, which he attributes to the fact that the Indians of late years catch more jack fish through the ice with hook and line than they formerly did. The jack fish live on the white fish and of course destroy many of them. The more jack fish the less white fish and the less white fish the more jack fish. White fish do not take bait and therefore can only be caught with nets. Mr. Cunningham says that at White Whale lake the white fish are so numerous that they are of poor quality, very inferior food. If their numbers were reduced by fishing so that those remaining would have an abundance of food the quality would improve.

TOWN council meeting last night.

GEES and ducks were passing south on Monday night.

SERVICES in the Presbyterian, English and Baptist churches to-day.

THE weather changed last night. A north wind sprang up and snow fell.

THANKSGIVING service in the Presbyterian church at eleven o'clock this forenoon.

THE furnaces have been put in the new school building and the plastering is well under way.

THE fire brigade band practices in the council chamber every Monday evening. R. Hockley leader.

W. R. HOWEY shipped a car of cattle, comprising 27 head, to J. Lineham, of Dewdney, on last Friday's train.

MONDAY's train brought one car of merchandise for E. Brousseau, St. Albert; one car horses for D. McKenney, one car settlers' effects from North Portal for A. Brungardt, one way car.

As this is Thanksgiving day and a public holiday, the BULLETIN is issued in the morning instead of as usual in the evening so as to enable the festive printers to give thanks in due form.

A CONVERSATION is the next in the series of penny reading entertainments in aid of the Presbyterian church organ fund. It will be held on Friday evening next, (22nd inst.) in Hourston's hall commencing at 8 o'clock. Collection at the door.

J. FLYNN returned from the Landing on Tuesday. The oil men were still boring but had not struck oil. The lakes near the Landing were open, while those nearer Edmonton were frozen. Almost all the hay that had been put up along the trail between the Sturgeon and the Vermilion has been burned. The loss would probably amount to a thousand tons.

C. N. COWAN was in town on Monday from Lake St. Ann, to which place he returned to start with F. A. Hardisty to winter at Shiningbank lake, north of Lake St. Ann beyond the McLeod river and near its junction with the Athabasca. This is a large lake and is said to be well stocked with fish. Many of the Lake St. Ann Indians winter there.

OLD TIMERS.

The annual meeting of the Edmonton Old Timers' association was held on Tuesday evening in Robertson hall, the president, Jas. Gibbons, in the chair. There was an attendance of about 35. A. McNicol, the secretary, made a verbal report in which he stated that the year, which was the first in the existence of the society, had commenced with a membership of 71. Three deaths had occurred: Messrs. D. McLeod, Jas. Reid and Frank Adamson. The society had turned out at the funerals of Messrs. McLeod and Adamson. In the case of the funeral of Mr. Reid, of Fort Saskatchewan, they were represented by the president. A social dinner had been given in Nov. last. The secretary suggested the drafting of a constitution for the society, the holding of quarterly business meetings, the appointment of a permanent committee of management, and an increase of the membership fee from 50c. to $1.00.

The secretary's report was declared Carried.
On motion of T. Anderson and D. Maloney the annual subscription was increased to $1.00.

The election of officers resulted in the election of D. Ross as president, Jas. Gibbons as vice-president for Edmonton, D. Maloney vice-president for St. Albert, G. Harper, of Saddle lake, vice-president for Victoria district, and F. H. Sachs, vice-president for South Edmonton. A. McNicol was re-elected secretary.

Messrs. A. McNicol, G. Sanderson, T. W. Chalmers, C. W. Sutter and W. S. Robertson were appointed a committee to draft a constitution.

Messrs. St. Geo. Jellett, W. McKay, Dr. Wilson, M. Groat and the officers were appointed a standing committee of management.

Moved by D. Ross, seconded by St. Geo. Jellett that the annual dinner be held on Wednesday, December 11th, and that the managing committee make all necessary arrangements therefor. It was decided that each member of the association would be allowed to purchase a ticket for one friend, provided sufficient notice were given to the dinner committee.

Quarterly meetings of the association will be held on the first Saturday in each quarter of the year, namely January, April, July and October.

On motion of D. Ross, seconded by St. Geo. Jellett, the election of Sir John Schultz as an honorary member was ratified.

It was moved by C. W. Sutter, seconded by W. Fielders, that a dance be given about the middle of January next, and that a committee be formed to arrange for the same and report at next quarterly meeting. The following members compose the dance committee: C. W. Sutter, Ed. Looby, T. W. Chalmers, W. Fielders, Dr. Wilson, K. A. McLeod, W. West, D. C. Robertson and A. McNicol.

The meeting then adjourned.

GENERAL NEWS.

Willoughby, the government candidate in Cardwell, announces himself as opposed to remedial legislation of any kind on the Manitoba school question.

Rumor has it that North Ontario will be the first constituency to be opened. It is said the election here will be held on Dec. 10 and that Cardwell will be opened a week later, on Dec. 17.

Nor-Wester: Mr. N. F. Hagel, Q. C., returned to the city yesterday from the Brandon assizes. Seen this morning by a Nor-Wester reporter, Mr. Hagel stated that at present it was the intention of Farr's counsel to make application for a new trial. He would not say on what grounds the application would be based.

HOGS.

The Edmonton Pork Packing Company have an extensive hog ranch at Scheidam, and are now on the market purchasing feed grain for use on the ranch next summer. There is something in this that is well worth the consideration of the farmers who have a surplus of potatoes or feed grain this season. It is that if grain for feed can be held over from the preceding year, all possible elements of uncertainty have been taken out of the hog raising business. At the present time, farmers generally depend on the grain to be grown in any season to fatten the hogs of the same season, with the possible result that the farmer who has a big crop of hogs to fatten may have very little grain to fatten them on in the fall, or the grain may be such a good price that it will not pay him to feed it to hogs. In either case he finds a loss in hogs and declares he will have nothing to do with them in the future. It is also the case that if a farmer has no grain or not sufficient grain on hand to feed up his young pigs during the summer he must depend on what they can forage for their living and growth, and cannot commence feeding up until threshing is over in the fall, which practically means not until cold weather has set in. He is then at a very great disadvantage in the attempt to make a profit out of pork as compared with the man who has sufficient feed grain on hand to keep his hogs in a growing condition from the start, and only depends on the newly threshed grain to finish them for market; being thereby relieved from the attempt to fatten in the very cold weather, which can only be done at a loss. At present in this district feed grain is abundant and cheap. It will surely pay any man who has a surplus of such grain and can afford to hold on to it, to winter over a few breeding sows, and raise hogs next summer on the grain that he has now to accept a nominal price for. Of course the necessities of each case must govern, but in cases where it can be done, it certainly seems to offer a better prospect of profit than any other course and is certainly the best and safest and most profitable way to raise hogs.

THUS FAR, AND NO FARTHER!

There may be some doubt as to where the Free Press stands in its support of the government, but there is none as to its position in its support of the Canada Pacific Railway. Joseph Nelson, who accompanied the premier and minister of interior to Edmonton on their recent visit, has a scheme in his head of a railway from Churchill, on Hudson's Bay, to Calgary, as an alternative Imperial route to the C. P. R. It is only an idea as yet, but the Free Press does not like the idea, as may be judged from a recent editorial, of which the following is an extract:

"However, we need not go into a discussion of the navigation of the Hudson's Bay route, and there is little that requires to be said of the railway itself. If Mr. Nelson has any desire to build a railway for the settlers of the Northwest; which will add to their present facilities and enable them to take advantage of that shorter route, his efforts in that direction will be heartily applauded. But neither the circumstances of the Northwest nor the necessities of the Empire require a second Pacific railway across Canadian territory just at present, nor for many years to come. The country has gone to enormous expense to build one, and as it will serve every imperial purpose it would be poor policy to expend other millions in destroying it. We are not looking for war with the United States. Trouble with Russia may come at any time, but it is inconceivable that in any quarrel that could possibly arise with that country the United States would have cause or excuse to take sides against us. Therefore, there is little danger of the present line being attacked."

It is well that the people of the Northwest should understand their exact position on this railway question, and they have it clearly stated in the above extract by the organ of the power which at present controls their destiny as well as that of the conservative administration at Ottawa. "Neither the

"circumstances of the Northwest nor the necessities of the Empire require a second Pacific railway across Canadian territory just at present, nor for many years to come." So says the organ of the company, but the meaning would be more correctly conveyed if rendered as follows: "Neither the circumstances of the Northwest nor the necessities of the Empire will induce us to permit a second railway across Canadian Territory as long as we can prevent it," and as long as the Canadian Pacific Railway company controls the government of Canada—as at present it does control it—it can and will prevent it.

As to the necessity of another railway across Canadian Territory, it is simply notorious that the present route does not give Central Canada its shortest possible route to the sea by something like 1,000 miles. For over 400 miles it passes through a country impracticable for ordinary agriculture, while a parallel route, two hundred miles further north would pass for the like distance without a break through a region the most fertile in Canada. The pass by which the present route crosses the Rockies, has grades which render it next to impracticable and very expensive to operate, and its pass over the Selkirk is through a region of such heavy snow fall that the road has had to be protected by a million dollars' worth of snow sheds, and even that does not in all cases ensure safety. On the northern route the pass through the Rockies has no grade heavier than on the plains and is never impeded by snow. In British Columbia the present route passes between the mineral regions of the Kootenay on the south and the Cariboo on the north, developing neither. The northern road might be taken through the heart of Cariboo, opening up to development the richest gold field the world ever saw. From Cariboo the northern road would reach the coast through the only part of British Columbia that is at present attracting agricultural immigration, namely Bella Coola. The development of these vast regions and their valuable resources by a railroad or railroads, even though at the cost of competition to the C. P. R., is as great a necessity to Canada to-day as the construction of the C. P. R. was fifteen years ago, and holds out far better prospects of financial success; for events have proved that the location of the C. P. R. throughout a great part of its length was a mistake,—and a mistake that must be rectified by the construction of a road for the development of Canada and not for the benefit of United States commerce. To even hold out a reasonable hope of such a road with an assurance that it would be a legitimate competitor of the C. P. R. would do more to establish confidence in the Northwest and induce an influx of both settlers and capital than all the patent immigration schemes that can be put in practice at whatever expense. People do not like to feel that there is a hand at their throats all the time, which even though it does not close, may do so. When capitalists or settlers with means are asked to invest in Northwest enterprises, the first question they ask is in regard to railway rates and the existence of railway monopoly. They do not care to invest their money where at any moment it may be rendered unproductive by a stroke of the pen by the manager of a single railway company. They might do so if they saw a prospect of the monopoly being broken, but when there is no prospect, near or remote, they simply don't come here—they put their money elsewhere. Let them see that the government of Canada is able and willing to break the monopoly by aiding the construction of say the British Pacific railway, and confidence would be created and the country would prosper. The Northwest and British Columbia are the richest regions in natural resources that are known to exist on earth, and they lie fallow to a great extent because people do not care to expend their capital and their time in playing jackal to the railway lion backed up by all the authority of the government of the country.

It is indeed an evil day for the Northwest when its leading newspaper can be made to declare so emphatically against another railway as the Free Press has on this occasion.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Commercial quotes creamery butter at 30c. in Vancouver, and 20c. for dairy. Eggs 22c. a dozen.

Charles Albert and Henry Thompson of Moosomin have been arrested on a charge of having poisoned their sister Sarah Jane Thompson with strychnine.

Free Press Nov. 16th. : D. H. Macdowall, M. P. for Saskatchewan, passed through the city last evening on his way home to Prince Albert from Ontario, where he has been for the last six weeks. Mr. Macdowall's business was in connection with railroad extension in Saskatchewan.

The verdict in the Farr case convicts the prisoner on all the counts in the indictment—arson, with intent to kill and murder—with intent to injure the landlord of the building—and, with intent to defraud the insurance company, with which the furniture in the building was insured.

Regina Leader: Wheat dropped to 36 cents per bushel yesterday on this market—the lowest price ever offered since the first acre was sown on Canadian soil west of Superior. It is disheartening. Between 2,500 and 3,000 bushels per day is being delivered this week. A few farmers are storing, but the majority are selling.

Calgary Herald: "Word was brought to town last night that the wife and daughter of the late Paul Failland were drowned at the narrows of Buffalo lake last Saturday. It is said that one of them broke through the ice when attempting to cross and the other went to her assistance, and both were lost. By a strange coincidence the accident occurred about the time Paul's body was found in the Bow river at Calgary."

The imports at the customs port of Nelson, B. C., for October last amounted to $69,086 and exports to $197,423 as compared with Vancouver's exports of $87,622. The Nelson Tribune explains that $62,572 of exports credited to New Westminster was for Slovan ores shipped by way of Revelstoke. This added to Nelson's exports would make the total exports from Kootenay for the month $258,064, a rate of $3,000,000 a year.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

Sir—Having seen a communication from your Wetaskiwin correspondent containing some strictures on the action of the brilliant authorities in withdrawing the land agent from this district and sending him down to join the agent at Red Deer, I take the liberty of sending you an appropos item. A Hollander, of the right calibre for a settler, arrived here last week from the States, was shown around the country and finally selected the S. W. quarter of 36 46-23. Coming into town to file his entry he found the office closed, and had perforce to take the train down to Red Deer (the same train, by the way, which bore away Mr. Ferguson, the land agent). His expenses, including board and railway fare, amounted to $12.60. Thus the filing of his homestead cost this man $22 instead of $10.

There is of course no use in making comments on this sort of humbugism. To quote one of the paragraphs in your last issue: "During the first six months of the present year there were 249 homestead entries in the Wetaskiwin land office, 143 in the "Red Deer office, 122 in Edmonton and 53 "in Calgary." In the Calgary office there are seldom fewer than two men employed, in Edmonton at least two, in Red Deer one and now in Wetaskiwin, the busiest and best paying of them all, there is not even one.

Great heads back there in Ottawa!

Yours respectfully,

JOHN G. GURNEY.

Nov. 10th, 1895.

ANTI TAX IN QUEBEC.

An Ottawa telegram of Nov. 16th, says: The rebellious settlers of Lowe township will be compelled to pay their taxes at the point of the bayonet. The military authorities had under consideration this morning a requisition presented by the justices of the peace of Ottawa county asking for a detachment of militia to be detailed to assist in collecting arrears of taxes owing by settlers of Lowe township. The law provides that when the militia are called out in aid of civil power the expense of maintenance and transport of the troops must be borne by the municipality invoking assistance which in this case will be the county of Ottawa. Before taking any action upon the requisition Col. Aylmer, commander of this district, sent for the county solicitor, Mr. Mager, and asked him whether the county authorities understood they were responsible for the cost of the proposed expedition. Mr. Mager acknowledged the liability and said the county would pay. Accordingly Col. Aylmer issued instructions calling out 100 men of the 43rd battalion, Dragons and field artillery, and these got up to Lowe to-night. They will be equipped with winter outfit and with provisions for a lengthy campaign. The cost to the county will be $200 a day.

THE GREAT FAIR.

The Regina Standard comments as follows on the Leader's recent bitter attack on Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh: "When the fair was over and the Standard was endeavoring to obtain justice for the prize winners, laborers and others to whom the project was indebted, not a word came from the "farmers' friend." Is it any wonder, therefore, that last week's onslaught was a surprise? And what is the secret of it? What new offence has been given to warrant the sudden change of front? Simply this: The governor has been mentioned as the coming minister of interior, in case Mr. Daly, fleeing before a storm, takes refuge on the beach. Mr. Mackintosh might trample upon the rights of Regina, might destroy the success of the exhibition, and thus injure the Northwest as a whole, might disregard the appeals of honest traders, mechanics, and other toilers to whom he was personally and officially indebted—all this he might do forever, unreprieved by the Leader, so long as he did not cast sidelong glances towards Mr. Davin's preserve."

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

Montreal Star.
The seats now vacant are: Cardwell, West Huron and North Ontario, in Ontario; Charlevoix, Montreal Centre and Jacques Cartier, in Quebec; and Missisquoi may be expected to join the list any day. Of these, Cardwell, Montreal Centre and Jacques Cartier have been consistently conservative with good majorities since 1878; and to lose any of them in a bye-election under ordinary circumstances would have been regarded as a disaster for the government. North Ontario was liberal until 1887, when it was won by the late Frank Madill with a good majority, and four years later he easily regained it. Possibly his personal strength may have been the chief factor in carrying the constituency; and with this removed, the seat may not be as safely conservative as the figures of the last election would seem to indicate. West Huron has had a varied political history since 1882, when it took its present form by virtue of the celebrated gerrymander act of that year. It was then supposed to be safely conservative, but M. C. Cameron won it for the liberals by a bare majority. In 1887 he was badly defeated by Mr. Porter, but returned the compliment to that gentleman in 1891. Being unseated, he was opposed in the bye-election by a cabinet minister, Hon. J. C. Patterson, and was defeated by eighteen votes. Mr. Cameron is again in the field, and with this record to guide us, his success does not appear improbable. Missisquoi, which may almost be spoken of as vacant is usually regarded as a safe conservative constituency, but it must not be forgotten that Mr. Baker twice suffered defeat there by the late Mr. Claves in 1887, and a year later by Mr. D. B. Meigs. There is another factor that may enter into an election in Missisquoi at the present time, and this is the carving which the constituency suffered in the redistribution act in 1892. By it Stanbridge township was taken out of Missisquoi and added to Ivesville, and Lacolle was added to Missisquoi from St. Johns. An election held at present would be in the old constituency; and if there is any resentment by the residents of Stanbridge at their removal from their own county it might show itself in the returns. Charlevoix has had a peculiar political experience. In 1887 it elected the liberal candidate, but he allied himself with the conservatives when he took his seat in parliament. In 1891 history repeated itself for Mr. Simard, though elected as a liberal by some three hundred majority, joined the conservatives at the close of the first session and was a loyal supporter of the administration in the subsequent sessions.

MARKETS.

Grain is coming in more freely, chiefly from Stony Plain settlement, but threshing is not yet completed, and as there is no sleighing and prices are so low farmers are in no hurry to sell. Larue & Picard have made the largest purchases so far, over 5,000 bushels of oats, wheat and barley. Gariepy & Clonier have bought about 1,500 bushels but have been short of storage. They will buy more freely when their new warehouse is complete, which will be at the beginning of next week. Jos. Kelly is also buying oats and D. R. Fraser, of the Edmonton mills, is paying cash for wheat. Prices are 15c to 20c for oats, 20c to 25c for barley, 30c to 40c for wheat. R. Ritchie reports wheat coming in freely to the roller mill in South Edmonton, but the quality is not as good as that of the first deliveries. T. W. Lines, of Brackman & Ker, has only begun buying milling oats. He has paid as high as 22c. Eggs are still scarce at 25c, and butter is becoming scarce at 15c to 20c, but the price has not advanced. A few chickens but practically no geese, ducks or turkeys. Beef is to some extent a drug in the market. Farmers offer dressed beef at 5c for hind and 4c for fore quarters. Live hogs are in good demand at 4c a pound live weight. Mutton is handled in small quantity at 6c a pound dressed. Potatoes and vegetables generally are not in demand.

BOARD OF TRADE.

A meeting of the Edmonton board of trade was held in Cowie & Gaidner's office on Tuesday evening, Nov. 19th. There was a fair attendance, E. C. Emery occupied the chair, Isaac Cowie secretary.

After the minutes of previous meetings had been read and agreed to the correspondence between the board and the Dominion government respecting a wagon road to Peace river was read and also a communication from the Calgary board of trade asking for the co-operation of the Edmonton board in regard to a division of the present electoral district of Alberta.

Messrs. Picard and Lines moved that the Edmonton board co-operate with the Calgary board to secure the division of the present electoral district.

Messrs. Picard and McDonald moved that the Lieutenant-governor of the Northwest Territories be requested to recommend to the Dominion government the selection and survey of a wagon road from Edmonton to Peace river at its junction with the Smoky river.

Messrs. Lines and Gariepy moved that the Lieutenant-governor be requested to recommend to the Dominion government the survey of the present travelled trail to the Athabasca Landing, giving as a reason for the necessity of immediate action the probability of the present trail being fenced off at any moment.

A discussion regarding the application for a charter for the Edmonton district railway company, took place, but at the suggestion of Mr. Picard no action was taken, awaiting further developments.

CARIBOO.

Kamloops Sentinel: A standard-gauge railroad from Kamloops, B. C., to Barkerville, in the heart of the Cariboo country, a distance of about 350 miles, is practically assured, and the plans to build it are now being consummated. A. D. Whittier, agent and manager for the Cariboo Gold Fields, Limited, at Barkerville, says that unless the unforeseen prevents, the ground for the line will be broken during next season. The road will cost about $22,000 a mile, and will be put down in first class shape, so as to be operated the year round.

Mr. Whittier said: "The new road to Barkerville will do a great deal toward the development of what I consider without question the richest mining country I have ever been in. Placer mines, as you know, have been worked there for years, but recently I have selected 48 quartz locations, and from numerous tests I can say that they will be productive of great wealth. The ore greatly resembles that from Africa, and some of the ledges are forty feet in width and cut the placers diagonally. Six tests of the government assayer gave an average of $64 to the ton.

"The placers of the Cariboo are paying well, the Canadian Pacific mines in charge of Hobson, on the Kootenai river and Horseshoe creek, have made two clean ups the present season, of $30,000 and $70,000 respectively. Since 1892, $1,000,000 has been taken out of these mines. The Cariboo Gold Fields, Limited, is working on Williams creek and employs about 400 men during the busy season."

The Toronto Mail and Empire foreshadows the probable course of the government on the school question. It says: "Had the law prescribed Roman Catholic exercises where the school attendance is exclusively Roman Catholic, Protestant exercises in Protestant districts, and no exercises where none were desired, all the schools being efficiently supervised, it would not have been open to Mr. Joseph Martin's objection that it was tyrannical. Mr. Greenway understands this, and has allowed the law to be evaded, in respect of thirty-six Roman Catholic schools. These schools are up to the public school standard, as they should be; but they are not compelled to have Protestant prayers or to give up religion altogether. It is probable that Mr. Greenway may make legal what he already admits without the sanction of law. Certainly the last order-in-council leaves the way open for such action. He is not asked to re-establish what he believed to be faulty; but is invited to do what he can in the line suggested by the privy council. Should he not act, federal legislation is to be proposed; but nobody need expect that the old school law, which set up no standard of efficiency will be revived. Rather may it be assumed that the practice followed by Mr. Greenway without the authority of law will be continued."

THE NOR'-WESTER SCORCHED.

Winnipeg Tribune.

On Saturday morning about 8.45 a coal oil stove beneath a type-drying rack in the Winnipeg Nor'-Wester office fell over, and the burning oil spreading over the floor set fire to the adjoining cases and stands. In a few minutes the whole place was full of smoke, and the employees hastily beat a retreat through doors and windows. Owing to the fact that there was no water at hand in the building, they could not attack the fire with pails. The brigade was on the spot in a few minutes, and the chemical engine subdued the flames before any damage had been done to the building. A good deal of type, however, was melted, cases and racks burned, a good deal of type pied or mixed up, and the two Thorne type-setting machines more or less damaged by the heat and sudden cooling with chemically charged water. These machines are very intricate and delicate, costing without fittings $2,500 each. It will not be possible to know the full extent of the damage till it is found if they have been permanently injured or not. The one which was in the greatest heat, it is feared, cannot be made to work again. Outside of this the damage to type and appliances is placed at $1,000. As soon as possible a number of men were set to work to set up type by hand.

An Ottawa despatch says: Quebec provincial police, who have gone to Lowe township to collect taxes owing for thirty years, wholly failed in their efforts, having been resisted at every town. Last night their wagons were dismantled, and owing to this and to the frightful state of the roads, the police cannot get into the settlement. Owing to the threatening attitude of the residents, who are Irish by descent, and whose "Irish" is up, a formal demand signed by four J. P.'s was made to-night for a detachment of the 43rd battalion to be sent in aid of the civil power.
